—The case of counting the City Hall precinct vote has been argued, but the Court has not rendered an opinion.

It's Now a Roller Mill.

W. T. Griggs has discarded the ancient stones from his mill at Elletts, and introduced the roller system. Griggs always likes to have the best, especially when it is of advantage to his customers.

Died.

Mrs. Mary McCormick died at Mayville last week, aged 72 years. She was the mother of A. M. McCormick, W. U. telegraph operator in Richmond, whose office is in the Glyndon. A man's most irreparable loss is his mother.

No, It Didn't!

The Register says our commission as gauger expired. The Register man should know that a commission in the revenue service, under civil service rules, never expires, nor continues good until death, resignation or revocation ends it. It was the assignment that expired. A commission comes from the commissioner—an assignment from the collector.

Males.

T. P. Enley got in Saturday from Atlanta, Ga., on points in Georgia. He reports a little better selling in Southern stock markets and is encouraged over the outlook. He sold two carloads of cotton mules for an average of $82 per head, selling them to a wholesaler. This week he goes to Richmond to get two more carloads that he is feeding in Madison.—Danville Advertiser.

Has Come to Town.

Hieatt Bros., of Garrard, having failed to take the Moberly farm, James Cosby, of Waco, removed to town with his family. Last week, and has taken the old Judge Field brick residence, near R. N. I. & B. Depot, which is on the place in question. Price $1400 for the year. Mr. Cosby is an excellent farmer, and will doubtless do well on the rich lands he has secured.

Want a Share of the Pie.

Some of our Powell county Republicans are getting their plates ready for the occasion when the pie cutters begin operations at Frankfort.

Lawson Clay wants to be a clerk in the Auditor's office and is being warmly endorsed by his friends, both Republican and Democratic. He is clever and competent, and enjoys the distinction of being a Madison county man, which ought to serve him in good stead. His relatives in both counties are wealthy and influential.—Clay City Chronicle.

Walker & Nelson.

Charles Walker and Billy Nelson, of Silver Creek, have rented the store room on Main street, second door below R., and will open up a line of patented articles and machines, covering a wide range. They are industrious reliable men and ought to do a good business. Every new invention will be handled by them. In the spring they will open a bicycle repair shop and employ an experienced man. When they open, go and see what they have and you will be sure to find something you need.

Nerve Tester.

A Richmond physician has adopted the spelling test for his patients' nerves. If they can spell and pronounce the following list—the nine longest words in the English language—he pronounces their nerves sufficiently steady:

Subventricularitis.
Involuntariness.
Philoprogenitiveness.
Heterostigmata.
Asphyxiophilia.
Disproportionateness.
Volucroestrutinalness.
Transobscurationadness.
Pronititrusculturalist.

Additional.

Brief mention was made last week, of the death in Clark county, of Lake Baxter, formerly of this county. He was a short time a confederate soldier. Soon after his return from the army, he was killed in the leg by one of the negroes who murdered his grandfather. Lake Baxter, down on Kentucky River near Jackson Ferry, for which murder Claiborne was hanged in Richmond in 1863. Baxter was in good financial condition when he left Madison, but died a pauper. The Winchester Democrat says of him: "His mind had been affected for a long time, one of his delusions being that he went near the fire his liver would melt. Hence it was hard to get him to keep sufficiently warm in cold weather."

Free Bots.

You have heard enough of free silver, free trade, free turnpikes and free speech. We shall now relate a case of free bots. We don't mean by a case of bots that a whole box full come up for consideration. Only one pair.

Green B. Turley, Esq., was in the CLIMAX office, Monday. He had on a pair of bots made by the late Samuel Freeman in 1875. Mr. Turley recalls that he was married in those bots in the fore part of that year. Soon they were twenty-one years old, and having attained their majority may set up for themselves. They are good bots yet.

Always in Trouble.

Two of the Littles were in jail, in Richmond for sale keeping, during the Breckinridge county war. Of the family, the Winchester Democrat says:

Joseph, John, James and James Little were the brothers, who lived in the same neighborhood in Breckinridge county and who reared large families. The four men were highly respected citizens, and had hosts of warm friends.

Of the younger member of the family Thomas was assassinated by an unknown party; Jerry, the leader of the celebrated Stone and Little mountain feud, who had survived the ordeal of being shot twenty-seven times, was killed by a log rolling over him; William was shot and killed by a boy near Jackson; Robert was murdered in a saloon at Elkton, while Joseph, one of the older men, was knocked down by a horse during the last year from which he received fatal injuries, and his brother John died of a gripe. Matt was killed Sunday by a man named Miller.

Richmond's Public Building.

Doubtless the delay in completing the Government building has, in part, been delayed by the bill in Congress to divide Kentucky with two judicial districts. If Richmond is to have a United States court, the building should be constructed accordingly. A Washington special to the Courier-Journal has this to say:

The democratic members of the Kentucky delegation interested in the division of the Blue Grass States into two judicial districts, held a conference this morning and talked over the matter informally. Gov. McCreary and Mr. Berry are in favor of pressing the matter to an early consideration, and it is understood they will jointly prepare a bill dividing Kentucky into two judicial districts. As the bill was favorably reported from the Judicial Committee last Congress it ought to stand a good show of passage this session.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder

Awarded Gold Medal Philadelphia Fair, St. Francisco.

Other City Officers.

W. C. Biggerstaff is City Assessor and E. C. Turley Treasurer. They go into office January 1st.

Infirmary Bazar.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Dec. 19th, 20th and 21st, the ladies of the Infirmary will have a bazar with dressed dolls and all manner of Christmas presents.

Public School No. 9.

The teachers are not receiving their pay promptly from the State. In October they were paid in full, but in November received one-third and in December only half.

Died at the Infirmary.

Mrs. Barbara Forbes, wife of Cassius Forbes, died at the infirmary on Monday, December 9th, of blood poisoning, after an illness of six weeks. She was a daughter of James Garrison and leaves three children.

Widow's Up.

The Three Forks Investment Co., of which D. M. Bright, this place, is president, made an assignment Wednesday, as the result of the Board meeting of Tuesday night, mentioned in last week's CLIMAX. C. D. Chenault is trustee. Hon. G. W. Gormley is attorney, at Beattyville. Nobody expects the stockholders will lose anything.

Sold Out and Gone.

Allen Deatherage, Sr., has sold his farm of 123 acres at Red House to William Cosby for $3,720 and removed to Frankfort. He will live with his son-in-law, Wingate Thomson. He continues to take the CLIMAX.

Doing Well.

E. C. Boggs' store room (next to Frick's furniture store) is continually crowded with customers inspecting his line of china-ware, glass-ware, tin-ware, lamps, etc. You can buy goods there cheaper than you can afford to steal them.—Cynthiana News.

A Richmond Boy's Letter to Santa Claus.

Dear Santa:

I forgot too tell you when I wrote the letter that I wanted Santa to bring me a new KRAKEN and SISTER WANDA A. LITTLE BASKET FULL OF DOLLS, good by.

From YOUR LITTLE FRIEND.

To Frankfort.

Gov. Bradley, wife and daughter and Secretary came through Richmond Monday on a special train, going to Frankfort. Auditor Stone and wife joined them here.

The L. & N. sold 51 tickets to the inauguration and the R. N. J. & R. fifteen. About 75 Madison county people were present yesterday.

Mangled by the Cars.

On Monday morning Port Estill, this county, Parker Gregory was standing on the platform while a freight train going South was passing. His clothing was caught and he was pulled beneath the train, two wheels passing over him and over his foot, the other over the leg above the ankle. Dr. Foster and Kennedy amputated the leg just below the knee.

The unfortunate young man is the second son of Mrs. Olivia Gregory. He was resting easy yesterday.

Bodily Paralyzed.

Robert Matthews, of Lexington, who travels for a Cincinnati grocery, and who has included Richmond in his rounds for a number of years, was seized with paralysis while eating supper at a hotel in Owensboro last Thursday night. He and P. M. Pope, of this place, were sitting at the table conversing, and apparently in excellent health. Suddenly he clasped one hand with the other and in a moment grasped his leg, saying something was the matter. He arose to walk into the public room, but sank to the floor and in a few moments was motionless and speechless.

A Significant Departure.

With the departure of another year another review is made of the condition of affairs, it is not only right that some thought be given to the physical body which enables every one to battle with life's problem and figure for themselves the profit or loss on the trial balance sheet. Though the bank account may be large and one's material good, if great, it would not be surprising if it suddenly dwains upon many that good health has been greatly impoverished by the low condition of the blood. It is in this state that the lactic acid in the vital fluid attacks the fibrous tissues, particularly the joints, making known the local manifestation of rheumatism. Thousands of people have found in Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, a positive and permanent cure for rheumatism.

Front Page Contents.

On the front page of today's CLIMAX is published an able article from the pen of Hon. C. F. Burnam entitled "Contributions of Kentucky to American Statesmanship." It will prove interesting to the general reader.

Another valuable article is entitled "Some Remarks on the Morphine Habit," by a prominent New York physician.

"New York Fashion Letter" will prove valuable to the ladies. Also our regular fashion letter from Verona Clark.

"The Influence of Alcohol on the Longevity of Man" is the product of a scholarly Hartford doctor.

"The Extinction of the Buffalo," is a knowledgeable article from the North American Review.

FOURTH PAGE.

The fourth page of the CLIMAX is filled with important Kentucky news. Also a sketch of Lewis Clark, a native of Madison, now so prominently before the reading public.

Big Steers are Not Desirable.

Never before in the history of the American cattle trade has the big steer sold at such a discount as now. The simple fact is that the great tallowy bullocks represents a pure waste of good feed. Repeated tests at the Fat-Stock Show have demonstrated that a stately rippled loin weighing a fat two-year old steer will cut up to infinitely greater advantage on the block than the 1,700 lb bullocks. One thing is sure, tidy, snappy young steers of that sort now preferred by the butchers cannot be produced except by the use of good blood. The sooner the American feeders abandon the big three and four year old cattle the better for all parties concerned. Baby beef has come to stay; and it can only be advantageously produced by securing well bred calves to start with and by forcing them rapidly forward. The older a steer grows the more feed required to produce a pound of gain. Good thrifty calves at the right time will make wonderful weights at an early age the "hey-day of their youth" is not frittered away around empty feed troughs, on barren pastures or in seeking shelter from wintry storms alongside a wire fence.—Chicago Brokers' Gazette.

Reduction Sale.

Covington & Mitchell, who have "by far the largest and best" line of suits and overcoats in town, have begun a reduction sale to work off their "immense stock." They have all grades and are selling them right along, so if you want a bargain drop in at 215 Main street. You will be pleased.

Board of Health.

The new Board of Health, as appointed by the new Council, consists of Drs. Foster, Kennedy and Collins. Excellent appointments. These gentlemen will select a fourth man from Silver Creek, who will be Health Officer.

Infirmary Notes.

The Infirmary now has five patients. The Bape boy, from Silver Creek, who set an eye from being struck with a stick, is sufficiently restored to go home. The Arnold boy, from Silver Creek, with a withered hand, is improving.

For Church Purposes.

The ladies of the Baptist church will have a supper Friday night, Dec. 13th, lunch Saturday, Dec. 14th, and bazar both days at Allen & Todd's vacant store room on Main street. Fancy work, Christmas presents, salads and cakes.

Auditor Stone's Sale.

On Tuesday last week Auditor Stone, of Danville, sold the personal property and real estate of the late S. H. Stone. A good crowd and good prices. In the stock, 500 barrels, $1.20; Timothy hay, 35 cents; clover hay, 35 cents; forty two 115 pound cattle to W. Herndon at $40.50, and forty to T. B. Chenault at $45.45; forty-three horses, ranging from $200 to $300, or an average of probably $200.

Corn land rented at $7.50 an acre and grass land at $3.50. Col. J. W. Caperton got the residence with several hundred acres at private price.

Has Been in Jail Here.

Below is an account, taken from the Nicholasville Journal, of a woman who has for years made periodical visits to Madison county and once was put in jail here. Recently she was at Silver Creek and said several days, claiming to be an agent for the Baptist Orphan's Home, Louisville, but could not tell the manager's name. She usually changes her imaginary occupation every time she changes neighborhoods. Humanity demands that she be confined permanently in some asylum. The Journal says:

Last Saturday Officer Allison arrested an apert lady at Seaton on a warrant for petit larceny sworn out by Mr. Sam Barkley, of this county. The lady, who gave her name as Mrs. Maud Grayville, and claiming to have come from Owensboro, is about sixty years old, rather large and aristocratic looking. She was brought here and placed in jail and Jailler Welch accused her of being crazy and asked her from what asylum she had escaped. She became very angry at this but finally weakened and admitted that she had been confined in the Anchorage Insane Asylum, but was released as cured, which proved to be correct, as it was substantiated by a telegram received from the Superintendent of Anchorage, saying Mrs. Maud Grayville had been sent there from Marion county in 1892 and released in 1893. A letter was received from the county judge of Marion saying that the woman was an entire stranger who had seemingly wandered in there, when she was declared insane and that all efforts to find out where she came from, or who she really was, proved fruitless. While the woman is undoubtedly crazy, still there seems to be a mystery connected with her past history. She converses well and claims to have come from Aristocratic Virginia parents. Jailler Welch has received reports from several adjoining counties concerning her, and she has also worked this county quite extensively. She travels through the country and represents herself to be a book agent, with no other whatever. When she stops anywhere she calls for the best of everything, manages to steal some trifling article, and when she leaves, tells her host that she will send the money in a few days. She had stayed last night at Mr. Barkley's, and as usual with her, found fault with everything, leaving the sheets changed on her bed and ordering an 8 o'clock breakfast, and when she left carried off several articles of wearing apparel, and the warrant for her arrest. The county officers are in a quandary what to do with her, but it is likely she will be tried and convicted of insanity and be turned to the asylum.

Successful Beyond Expectation.

Hotel Glyndon is a marvel of success, even if considered for the moment. Corcoran came here today strangers. Their predecessors had failed bar room, notwithstanding they had bar room, billiard saloon and barber shop attached, which are everywhere considered indispensable elements of success in the hotel business. A glance at the towns of central Kentucky show a large number of failures, the past several years, among the hotels, all of which had the aids above referred to.

The Messrs. Corcoran undertook to run a hotel minus the usual adjuncts and have succeeded. They buy the best and in abundance. They and their employees are courteous to all customers. They pay cash for everything they purchase and demand cash from their patrons. The result is they owe no man anything and no man owes them anything.

Traveling salesmen make it a point to spend their nights at the Glyndon, and there are families that elegant homes here that can not resist the temptation, now and then, to close their houses and stop awhile at this hotel. The building is a palatial one furnished in keeping with outside appearances, and conducted on the most approved plan.

A fine hotel system is employed and it is winning its way with the very best people. Guests, local and otherwise, are ready to return to the Glyndon, after having once tried it.
